Full Day Team Building

This full day of team building consists of eight hours aboard a schooner sailing from historic Gloucester Harbor. Your group will spend the day focusing on its development as a team. After setting sail, the Captain and crew will begin to brief you on the day's events as you enjoy coffee and a continental breakfast. Afterwards you will split into three groups, encountering important lessons regarding teamwork and the skills necessary to sail a schooner. After a tasty lunch, complete with fresh chowder, the three groups will work together to plot a course, sail the vessel and maintain the vessel's position on the course, an excellent teambuilding experience.

After arriving back at the dock, there will be a debriefing session offering the group an opportunity to discuss the experiences of the day. Your group will enjoy and benefit from this fun and rewarding day on the water. This team building event is available for single groups of up to thirty people. Larger groups can be serviced as a series of one day trips at a discounted rate.

Half Day Team Building

Our half day option begins with a delicious barbeque lunch. After lunch, the group will divide into smaller teams and compete for a chance to be hired by Donald Trump or "The Donald" as he prefers to be called. This part of the day is directed by a crew of professional team building specialists. Your teams will be given tasks that push the limits of their resourcefulness and creativity. "The Donald" will judge everything the teams do until one hears those exciting words: "YOU'RE HIRED!" This team building exercise is the perfect combination of food, fun, and reality.

Most importantly, your group will depart as a much stronger team! This team development experience is great for groups of twenty to two hundred.
